Priorities for Australia.

Poor policies are taking Australia into tough times.

There are four priorities for the coming election.

Firstly: Decimate the Foreign Green Snakes in the Grass.

The climate/emissions obsession started with unelected foreigners in the UN and the IPCC who drafted deep green agendas to be imposed via elected Federal, State and Local governments. Australia must immediately withdraw from the Lima/Paris/Kyoto agreements, reject the 2030 Agenda, and repeal all the green tape they spawned. This costly mess creates no measurable climate or environmental benefits.

Secondly: Build more Reliable Base-Load Power Stations.

Green extremists want to destroy the carbon energy that powers our industries, supports our life style, funds our welfare and provides our jobs. They want to take us back to primitive green energy that can never support modern civilised life.

We have played with weather-dependent wind-solar toys for too long. They will never power an advanced economy, nor will they lift poor nations from poverty. And they provide no demonstrated benefits for the climate, the landscape or consumers. All taxes, subsidies and energy targets that prop up unreliable intermittent energy must be abolished.

Take a look at “clean, safe, reliable and non-polluting” wind power:

Thirdly: Build More Dams and Weirs.

Much of our continent cycles between droughts and floods. Both problems have the same positive solution – catch and store flood waters. The oceans are never short of water, but our land often is.

Finally: Fight Fire with Fire.

Every dry season we lose homes, properties, livestock, parks and wildlife to massive bushfires. There is only one positive solution – copy aboriginals and old-time graziers and use small, managed, early-season fires to remove flammable ground litter. This will require landowners and local fire-fighters (not urban greenies) to manage fuel-reduction burns.

We must fix these four issues. Stop draining Australian money to support foreign agendas and the bloated UN bureaucracy. Let's help Australians instead.

The Saltbush Website

We have not been idle. Here is a list of posts on our web site:

<https://saltbushclub.com/w4pl/post-list/>

Go there, lodge comments, or copy links and circulate them anywhere. Put things into social media, write your own letters, phone and meet media and politicians.

Social Media

Australia is in a desperate battle to get sensible positive policies on energy, climate, water, agriculture, fishing and more. The negative malignant green disease is everywhere.

We need help to change the policies or change the politicians, probably both. We need all members who use social media to promote Saltbush concerns there.

Here is the Saltbush Facebook site:

What Can I do?

The need is urgent, the time is late:

Maybe we need a march of the adults?

No one can do everything but everyone can do something. Here are some suggestions

Send this newsletter everywhere and to everyone. Can you recruit more Saltbush Members?

Make fun of them - no one can survive ridicule, so make fun of the greens, the global warming forecasts, local state and federal government stupidity.

Paint a positive picture of how good it would be to have cheap stable electricity, reduced damage from floods, droughts and bushfires.

Attack biased comments from ABC, Fairfax, CSIRO, Ministers etc

Write short pithy letters to every media you have access to. Keep each letter to one central point with short, simple, colourful sentences.

Use every social media platform to spread ideas and scepticism. Spread Saltbush news and articles on every platform you manage.

Let everyone know about our web site: www.saltbushclub.com
