

What replaces Diesel?

Most farm tractors run on diesel. And every day hundreds of diesel trucks deliver food from farms and feedlots to processing plants and city cold rooms.

In the brave new world of zero emissions, how do we power these trucks and tractors?

They talk bravely of electric trucks. When an electric road train makes a round trip to collect cattle from a feedlot west of Dalby headed for Brisbane, where do they charge the batteries?

To download this article with all images click:
<https://saltbushclub.com/wp-content/uploads/2019/05/windy-transport.pdf>

www.saltbushclub.com

"The Faster She goes, the more power She generates."

Viv Forbes

Washpool Qld 4306 Australia
Phone 0409 2777 94
forbes@saltbushclub.com

Viv Forbes is not a member of any political party, and has no vested interests in mining, energy or bio-fuels. He and his wife breed meat sheep, drive a diesel car, ride petrol quad bikes, have roof-top solar panels and a diesel generator in the shed.